Subject: Dangers of Fake News in the Digital Age

Respected Sir/Madam,

Through your esteemed newspaper, I would like to draw attention to the increasing spread of fake news on social media platforms. Misinformation often misleads people and creates panic in society.

Strict regulations, fact-checking mechanisms and digital literacy programs are necessary to control this menace. Awareness campaigns should educate citizens about verifying information before sharing it.

I request authorities to take immediate measures to curb the spread of fake news.

Yours sincerely,

Satyendra Pratap Singh

Q5. Article Writing (8 Marks)

Critical Thinking: A Necessity in the Digital World

In the digital era, information spreads rapidly across platforms. However, not all information is accurate. Critical thinking enables individuals to analyze facts, question assumptions and identify biases.

Students must develop media literacy skills to distinguish between reliable sources and misinformation. Educational institutions should encourage debate and analytical discussions.

Critical thinking fosters informed decision-making and responsible digital citizenship. Therefore, it is essential for navigating the complexities of the modern world.
